PRIME MINISTER RECEIVES A BOOK ON THE WORKS OF CAZABON

Mr. Geoffrey MacLean presented his book which is the first ever to be published on Cazabon's paintings, to the Prime Minister on Friday (December 11th, 2015) at his office. Mr. MacLean is the leading authority on Michel-Jean Cazabon, who was a National Hero and great nineteenth century artist. He also represented the Government at an Auction for Cazabon's paintings in London this year. The ten (10) Cazabon paintings that the Government successfully acquired will be housed at the museum as a significant part of our history captured by the first Trinidad and Tobago artist to attain international acclaim. Exhibitions will be held next year for citizens to gain deeper appreciation and respect for the great works of Cazabon which has become a part of our nation's heritage.
